

ch. 1 the battle

Harry and his were eating lunch with his friends at hogwarts at the end of his seventh year when there was a loud explosion out side. Dumbledore came running in the great hall and put his wand to his neck and spoke magnified "THIS IS THE ATTACK PEOPLE. LORD VOLDEMORT AND HIS DEATH EATERS ARE ON THE GROUNDS ATTEMPTING TO BREAK IN THE CASTLE. I WOULD LIKE ALL OF THE FIFTH AND HIGHER STUDENTS WILLING TO FIGHT TO PLEASE GO TO THE GROUNDS. ALL THE OTHER STUDENTS WILL GO TO YOUR COMMON ROOMS AND PREPARE INCASE THEY BREAK THROUGH".

harry looked to his left could see hermione pull out her wand ready to fight. " You are not going to fight out there. Not while you are four months pregnant with our child" said harry to hermione grabbing her arm.

"I want to help" she said with tears in her eyes" she said wrapping him in a hug.

"Please go to the common room and stay safe. i will come back to you" said harry kissing her with as much love as he could. she nodded and started to run to the common room. Most of the older kids were sticking around harry. No matter how much he will deny it, he is the school leader. He trained most of the older students in dueling and they look up to him more than the headmaster. He nodded to everyone and started walking out of the castle with the students following him. when the reached out side, there was teachers and order members all battling atleast five hundred death eaters and the were not doing to good so far.

"Lets get them" yelled harry to all. Over one hundred students started running into the battle throwing off curses one after another. They were even throwing dark magic were thay learned from harry. He told them that all magic is magic. It is only evil if you use it for evil ways.

Harry started throwing spells out of his wand and his other hand wandlessly. he found out that he was a shadow mage at the beggining of his sixth year and he had dumbledore,snape,lupin,mcgonnagle, and several other powerfull people to train him for exactly this reason. they didn't know he found a book in knockturn alley where only shadow mages can read. it only cost one galleon because no one else could read it. it had spells that were only shadow mages could use and special rituals that would help him.

He could see that bunch of the kids were falling but the death eaters were falling quicker. He looked up and saw Voldemort behind all the death eaters with a large smirk on his face. Harry growled and started blasting five death eaters at a time away.

"Shato percusion, erectes percelium, expelliarmus recelton, shato melda repluda, receldum, stupefy monoly" Harry started using ancient spells clearing his a path through the death eaters so he could get to Voldemort. Harry decided invisibility right now would be best so he change into a mere shadow which you could only tell where he was on a bright day with flat ground. He ran around the death eaters while stunning most of them until he came face to face with Voldemort. He felt a sharp pain in his scar but the next second it disappeared. Over the last year and a half he learned how to block off his link with Voldemort and learn advance occlumency and legilimency.

"Potter. I know you are here, show your self" yelled Voldemort. He has gotten scared of Harry over the last year and a half since all of his training but he still thinks he is more powerful. Little did he know that ten death eaters were running through the castle heading to the Gryffindor common room with Wormtail in the lead.

Harry turned himself visible. He raises his wand up towards the sky and chanted "repulsion domeno reado rectelious deblocktion". A misty white dome appeared around himself and Voldemort. The dome was see through but you could see the white misty shield for stray curses along with anti disappearing and anti portkey ward. The had about a hundred foot circle dome which was plenty enough to duel.

The whole battle outside of the dome stopped to see the fight against Harry Potter, aka the warrior of the light, fight Lord Voldemort. Death eater and students along with the teachers gathered around to look. Kids from the castles were looking out the windows from their common rooms and their dormitories.

"Here is your end Potter" said Voldemort cruelly.

"No it is your end tom" said Harry in a calm voice.

"Don't call me that you worthless piece of trash" yelled Voldemort
"Avada Kedavra"

"Shato relcious" said Harry. The curse hit the shield and disappeared. Everyone was shocked except the headmaster and Snape who worked with Harry on the shield. Harry told them he knew the spell to block the killing curse but wouldn't tell them he got it out of the Shadow Mage book. He shot the killing curse at him for practice to see if he could actually block the curse and he did it each time.

"Velcum gersion" said Harry. The spell clipped Voldemort hit the rib making him cry out in pain.

"Avada kedavra" they both said at the same time. Both green lights struck making another prior incantation. But before anything came out Voldemort yelled out the killing curse again which pushed more power into it. The green light connected with Harry's wand making it explode.

Harry knew it would be hard to beat him wandlessly. He was good at wandless magic but it makes him tired quicker and he can't do the more super advanced spells..The dome Harry created vanished with a wave of Voldemort's wand.

Harry was on his knees panting when Dumbledore stepped up to challenge Voldemort. The two fought through curses back and forth for a good ten minutes before a spell struck Dumbledore in the right shoulder and cut off his whole arm. Everyone was shocked when Dumbledore fell to his knees with his right arm and his wand laying next to Harry. Harry picked up Dumbledore's wand and Voldemort cast the killing curse at Dumbledore and killed him.

"HA, I killed your precious headmaster and defeated your boy hero" yelled Voldemort. Everyone of the students and teachers were shocked and started panic. Harry had enough and stood up with Dumbledore's wand in his hand.

"You are not through with me yet" said Harry dangerously.

"Potter, before we duel again i have a surprise for you" said voldemort grinning evilly. harry stomach dropped when three death eaters came plowing by with hermione in there arms.

"You mudblood girlfriend who is carrying your child which i believe is a girl" said voldemort. voldemort pointed his wand at hermione and used the cruciatus curse. harry sent a hex at voldemort which threw him back twenty feet.

"Enough playing, you are gonna die you mudblood" snarled voldemort pointing his wand at hermione. hermione looked at harry and mouthed 'i love you' before the green light struck her killing her instantly.

Harry stood there numb. everyone he ever cared about is dead. dumbledore hermione and ron got killed early in the battle by a killing curse. Even remus, ginny, tonks, and the other waesleys are dead.

Harry got a dangerous glint in his eyes before he started throwing curses out quicker than voldemort could dodge. he was struck in the stomach by a curse which made his stomach started to melt. he started yelling and sent spells back at harry. for a good five minutes everyone watch the spells go back and forth till harry blew voldemort backwards in a flip and land on his knees.

"Shato avada kedavra" yelled harry. a green light with a little swirl of black struck voldemort making him slump over.

Voldemort was dead.

ch. 2 the time mage

the following week after the battle and the death of voldemort you could still find people celebrating. But harry, you could find him walking around the castle with a haunted look in his eyes. the death of all of his friends hit him hard. he walked out and sat on the side of the lake.

"i wish i wasn't alone, i wish i could start over" mumbled harry to his self. Little did he know that someone heard him and granted him a wish. fog started to pour out of the sky like water out of a cup and wrap around harry. he started to panic but the feeling was warm and peaceful. then he was gone from hogwarts and in a magical room with what looked like puffy clouds. then a person started to appear in front of him.

"Hello harry potter" said a beautiful girlish voice. A beautiful girl that looked ten times more beautiful than a veela walked up to him.

"Hello" said harry casually but in the inside he was panicky, scared, curious, and had lust filled eyes but then that last one died away thinking of hermione. sure he was with plenty of girls before hermione but on the first doing hermione got pregnant but he knew hermione was the only girl for him.

"I am here to grant you your wish my fellow mage" said the girl with a warm smile the girl looked to be in her mid twenties.

"How... wait- your a mage to" he asked awed. he heard that the last mage there ever was was merlin.

"Yes, i was alive before merlin but i was cursed to live forever to watch dimensions and fix things that go wrong with time travel but that is off the subject. You for a reason. there is another dimension where voldemort did not come after you first. he came after the longbottoms who secret keeper was peter pettingrew. the longbottoms had a aunt of neville's there and she sacrificed herself for neville which let him survive the curse and made him the boy-who-lived. So that means your parents are alive" explained the girl.

"What does that have to do with me" harry asked curiously.

She gave a long sigh " The reason you are here is because in that dimension you are a normal boy with loving parents with three younger sister and a younger brother. the problem is neville longbottom, He is an arrogant spoiled brat with less than average magical powers. He will not defeat voldemort, voldemort in the dimension and i want you to go to this dimension and live a loving life but defeat voldemort" she explained.

"You mean i can meet my parents" he asked hopeful. He would do anything to meet his parents for real even if it was for ten seconds.

"Yes, and including sirius black along with his wife and his kids" she said.

"I will do it" said harry with his first smile that weak.

"Good now let me explain something first. The harry in that dimension is a little rude, plays pranks practically everyday on his family and neighborhood people, rides a broom but know where skilled as you were in your first year. Your father is a auror and mother is a house wife but they are already filthy rich. What you need to be careful with is that the harry there hates to read and doesn't care about trying to learn spells ahead. let see... your siblings are rose who is a year and a half younger than you but she will go to hogwarts the year after you. Another younger sister you have is three years younger than you is daisy. Next you have a younger brother that is four years younger than you who is named brian. Then last you have another younger sister named lily or little lily who is six years younger than you" she explained.

"Um...ok i got it but how old will i be when i turn up or what ever" asked harry trying to process.

"Ok, you will show up on the edge of shadow forest which is a little bit away from godric hollow. i am sending you here is because the harry potter there died in the forest while exploring. he was bit by a rattlesnake and died a minute later. So you are arriving december 13th 1990 which makes you a little older than ten years old. oh before i got, sirius married a pretty blonde and had three kids. His oldest daughter sarah who is the same age as rose. Then a son zack who is three years younger than you. then another son trent who is four years younger than you. So remember, when you get there you will be ten and rose is eight about to turn nine, daisy is seven, brian is six, little lilly is four, sarah eight, zack seven, trent six. I must warn you then the voldemort in this dimension is almost twice as powerful as the one in your dimension so you better be prepared" she explained. his head was swimming with information but he understood.

"But i didn't even put my all in the battle. Which i know it was stupid but i could of took voldemort out the first five minutes if i wanted to. i was just toying with him until they dragged her-...hermione ... out there" croaked harry.

"yes well you will have to put your all in the battle in this dimension. which brings me to my next point, you might not get together with hermione this dimension. She could be different or you could accidentally tell her something that happened in the first dimension that didn't happen in this one. i'm not saying that you won't but all i can say is try someother girls and try to explore and have fun" she said winking at him.

"Um ok... well... what about the tri wizard tournament" asked harry " I mean, voldemort won't want me because neville is the-boy-who-lived".

"Well, time will tell. besides i can see that you will make a name for your self in due time" she said mysteriously.

"Ok" he said nervously.

"Now, before you go, i am gonna plant a guider in your mind" she said walking up to him.

"A what" he asked confused.

"I will put a spell on you that will place a guider in your mind forever. The guider will only be a voice in your head that will give advice on things in your life. The guider can tell you to trust a person or can tell you if a enemy is behind you. The guider will not always tell you things so don't depend on it the whole time. You might go a week some day before you will hear the voice" she said. she placed her hand on his forehead and muttered a spell for a minute before there was a flashing white light.

"Wow" said harry. he felt a little light headed for a second.

"This is where i leave you my fellow mage. train hard and live a loving life" said the woeman before he dissapeared in a blinding white light and landed on the ground five feet in a forest

Writers note: i changed the date from september 13th to december cause i want it closer for christmas.

ch. 3 starting over

He landed on the hard ground. He groaned and sat up. he immediately felt the difference in his body. he looked down to find he was a lot shorter and not even close as strong. he looked around. He was in a forest but he could see the edge of it to his right. He groaned again as he stood up. He wobbled a bit and straightened up. he walked out of the forest and came to a large quidditch pitch. He couldn't believe there is a quidditch pitch in front of him. then on the other side of the pitch was the back of a huge house which had a beautiful garden in the back. Then he remembered he was supposed to land next to godric's hollow So this must be my home.

He popped his back trying to get the knots out of it and started walking across the pitch and through the garden of the back of the house. he was fifteen yards from the back door when the door was through open.

"Harry, where have you been. You haven't been seen since breakfast" yelled a woman. He didn't even get to see her face before he was engulfed in a huge hug. All he saw was red hair till the woman pulled back. He was frozen still when he saw his mother.

"Honey are you ok" she asked. She was prettier than he would imagine. She looked like she was twenty two but Harry knew she had to be in her early thirties. She had a figure that you could not tell she has had five kids.

"Mum" he croaked before hugging her again. She was confused because Harry was not really the one for affection very much.

"Babe let's go in, the family has been worried where you have been. It's almost supper time and the last time we saw you, you were eating breakfast.

"Sorry...mum... i went to go explore the forest" said Harry following his mother into the house. His head was spinning with so many thoughts and emotions and out of nowhere he was slammed into a huge hug from two more girls that were younger than him. He looked down to see a girl a little younger than him with long silky black hair and bright green eyes similar to his. Then another girl with bright beautiful red hair with the same green eyes.

"Um Harry... what are you staring at" asked the older girl who he thinks is Rose.

"N-nothing" he stuttered a little choked up. He looked over and saw a large dinner table with food being put on and a boy a couple of years younger than him setting the silverware in place. The boy who must be Brian looked remarkably like him. He had the same messy black hair and green eyes but if Harry and Brian were the same age you could still tell the difference. Then a man with messy black hair who was wearing glasses and a muscular build came walking into the dining room carrying a four year old girl who has red hair and the same green eyes as all the other kids. 'Five kids with the same green eyes' Harry mused to himself.

"Come on everyone dinner is ready" said his mother setting a large meatloaf in the middle of the table surrounded by other food. Everyone walked over to the large table and found a seat.. Harry nervously found a seat beside Lily the youngest sister and Daisy the second youngest girl. Lily was on her knees so she could eat above the table.

Five minutes into the meal his dad looked up and noticed Harry wasn't wearing his glasses. "Harry, where are your glasses" he asked confused. He was staring at Harry with a weird look.

"Um uh we-well I woke up and I could see fine" he stuttered. He noticed his whole family was giving him curious looks except little Lily who dropped a bite of meatloaf in her lap and giggled.

"Well... I wish I didn't have to wear these ruddy old things" said his dad after a minute to be followed up by getting a slap on his head from Lily for his language.

They finished up dinner with dessert and then they spent family time watching the telly. Harry walked behind his family down into a large living room with several large couches with a roaring fire and a large telly running on magic. Harry plopped down on the couch. He had so many thoughts running through his head he didn't even notice little Lily lay down in his lap and the movie was almost over. Every now and then Harry noticed that his dad would give him little side glances.

"Alright kids, everyone get to bed. Padfoot and Moony are coming over with the kids so we could have a fun day in diagon alley" said Harry's father. Harry picked up little Lily who was asleep on him and carried her up stairs. He wouldn't of figured out which room hers was unless the door didn't have her name engraved in. He set her in her bed and pulled the covers up to her neck and kissed her on the forehead.

He swept out of the room and down the hall to a door with his name engraved in it. He opened the door and walked in. In the room he had a large bed with a closet, dresser and tons of quidditch posters. There was of course a telly with video games and vcr. When he was removing his clothes to change he noticed something in his pocket. He pulled out a little sack that was bottomless that carried all of his gold from his dimension. There was probably ten million galleons in the sack. He put the sack in his top drawer. He pulled on some night clothes and went to sleep peacefully.

ch. 4 family time

He woke up the next morning with someone jumping on his bed.

"Wake up" chirped little lily.

"Nooo" moaned harry rolling over to his stomach and wrap the blanket tighter around him.

" But diagon alley" said the little girl jumping on his back.

"Fine" said harry gumpily siting up.

"Hurry up you two. Mum said we have to eat breakfast before diagon alley for christmas shopping" said rose from the door.

Harry stood up and walked to the closet puting on some clothes and robes. Then he walked to his drawler and stuffed the money pouch in his pocket. Then he walked out of the room following his sisters. He walked into the dining room to his family siting down. Then he noticed six more seats and alot more food.

Then he heard a noise from the living room which sounded like many people were flooing in.

"Uncle sirius, uncle remus, aunt amy" yelled rose running up to hug each one that walked in the room followed by two boys and a girl. When harry looked up and saw them he felt like he was gonna cry. He hasn't seen sirius since the end of his fifth year and remus died in the battle. Harry was slightly amused at the uncle part since neither one of them were related. He didn't notice his dad giving him a calculating look

"Hey guys" said sirius sitting down followed by everyone else.

Harry took in the apearances of the new guests. Remus didn't looked all rufted up. Sirius actually had meat on his bones and looked alot younger. The time mage wasn't lieing when she said he married a beautiful women. He looked looked at the oldest girl who's name was Sarah. She took after her mother alot. She had Beautiful blonde hair and sparkling blue eyes that are full of life. She caught his gaze on her and she immediately blushed and looked away. Harry raised an eyebrow at that but looked at the boy who looked around seven who must be Zach. He had Sirius's looks. He had shaggy brownish blackish hair with grey eyes(a/n: i really don't know what Sirius's eyes color is so i made a color up). Then he shifted his eyes to a boy a little younger than Zach who is Trent. Trent looked exactly like his older brother but he had his mother's eyes.

He shook his head and started eating. He felt somehow at peace at his home. Home... he loved the feeling of the word home and family. Even though the Dursleys were his only blood relatives he still didn't count them as his family. He was pulled out of his thoughts when his dad whispered something.

"You haven't played a prank in a while. Are you planning a good one" asked his father with a mischievous look.

Harry flicked his wrist behind his back causing his dad's hair to change these mixed colors of blue, red, and green.

"Maybe" said Harry snorting in laughter.

It took twenty seconds till a shocked Sirius looked up and blurted out "holy moly Christmas" causing everyone at the table to look at James Potter and laughing hysterically.

"Why you little" growled James chasing after Harry who took off from the table and started to run around the house before getting tackled by Harry on the couch in the living room. He started tickling him till tears formed in his eyes.

"Ok you two cut it out and eat" yelled Lily from the table. Harry stood up and followed his father back to the breakfast table. Before they could see him he reversed the hair colors. After another fifteen minutes eating, everyone gathered around the floo network.

"Diagon Alley" yelled Harry throwing the dust in the fire. With a roaring green fire he disappeared and stumbled into the leaky cauldron.

"Fuck, no matter how many times I do that I fall" he yelled as he stood up scowling and dusting his robes up. Then he felt a hand on his shoulder. He spun around to find his dad starring at him oddly. Harry gulped nervously but covered it with occlumency. He used mild legilimency on his dad who had no occlumency training and could tell his father was very suspicious and confused by harry for the last two days.

'hmm, he has never fell floo traveling' thought his dad.

Then the rest of the family came out of the fire place.

"Alright kids, you may split up in pairs to go shopping for everyone but stick together and no knockturn alley" Said lily sternly " hear is the money you can use for shopping and what ever money you have your self you can use to" she handed each each kid except little lily a puch of twenty galleon which is alot but there is a ton of people between the two families and remus.

"Me with big brother" chiped little little lilly running and hugging his leg.

"I don't know if harry is resposible enough to look after someone so younge" said lily apprehensive.

"Don't worry mum, i've got it covered" He said picking lily up.

"Alright... now what ever you buy get it shrunk from the shop owner and put it in a bag. Meet here in two hours" said lily

The family followed behind james as he tapped the bricks and revealed the path to diagon alley. Little lily clapped her hands in excitement. He tightened his arms around his baby sister and started walking away from his family. He didn't notice his mom clutching her hair in worry when they were out of sight.

"So were do you want to go" asked harry.

"Pet store pet store" squeled lily. He grinned at her and walked in the pet store.

"What would you like" he asked lily.

She pointed to a black bird with a white tummy.

"You want that" he asked. she nodded.

"Sir, i would like that owl right there and some owl treats" he asked the man at the counter.

"Three galleons, seven sickles, and two knuts" he said. Harry nodded and grabbed the money out of his unlimited pouch while adding the twenty galleons into the pouch. He handed the money to the man and grabbed the cage with the bird. Then he grabbed the owl treats and shrank it wandlessly and put it in his pocket. He opened the cage of the bird so it could land on his shoulder.

"Go to godric's hallow" said Harry. The bird nipped his finger and flew away. Then he wandlessly shrank the cage and put it in his pocket.

He spent the next hour and a half Christmas shopping. After he was done Christmas shopping, He cast a wandless sleeping charm on Lily and walked down Knockturn alley. He spent the next thirty minutes buying rare books and plus his shadow book. He ended up buying fifty three rare dark arts books, fifteen spell books, ten rituals books, and five guides to make up your own spells and charms books, and five blank books and had them shrink. It cost him around three hundred thousand galleons. He then started walking toward the leaking cauldron. Since he didn't have his wand he had to wait till someone opened it up which only took five minutes. He then slipped into the dirty pub where everyone was waiting for him.

"So did anything bad happen" asked him Mum taking the sleeping little girl.

"Nope" said Harry.

They each took their turns flooing to Godric's hollow. Right when Harry stepped in he bolted up to his room and locked it. He enlarged a couple of the make your own spells up and a blank book and started to work.

Over the next week in a half his family really didn't see him very much. See, in his other dimension, Harry was working on a necklace with a pendant on it that will block whoever is wearing it from the three unforgivables and many other things. He had over half the spells and enchancements down for it but it never really works. Finally on christmas eve, he had all the spells and enhancements wrote in a blank book only he could read.

With a wave of his hand a couple of words and eleven silver necklaces appeared for everyone except him. Another wave all of the necklaces had a black rose pendant on them. Then another wave and all of the pendants had a little number three burned to the side where it is barely noticeable. He waved his hand and all of the pendants glowed black then green and white before it stopped glowing leaving the necklaces immune to the unforgivables. Then another wave and the necklaces changed from blue to orange to yellow to purple glowing.

The blue glowing made the necklace to only allow the wearer take it off free willingly. The orange glow makes the pendant only work for the first person it is put on. The yellow glow is it reduces all spell effects on the person by fifty percent. Then finally the purple glow boosts the wearers magic fifty percent more powerful.

Harry yawned real loud before he fell asleep after wrapping all of the present he got everyone. He went to sleep that night knowing his family would be safe.

better pay more attention to the pendant parts because they are gonna play a big role later on and more info on different one will come later. oh and pleaseeeze review.

ch. 5 christmas time and diagon alley

He wake up the next morning with screaming kids running around. He smiled as he got dressed and walked down stairs carrying presents for everyone. He was exhausted bgy making the pendants but he didn't show it. He happily sat dow on the couch next to the christmas tree. He had all of there first presents under the tree but the pendants bere it little boxes in a bag.

"Com one everyone, lets get a big picture" said his mom. He got up and walked over to were everyone was standing. He felt a tug on his pants and saw little lily with her hands up. He smiled and picked her up.

"Say cheese" said his mom puting a time on the camera and running into the picture.

"Cheese" they all said.

"Alright lets start opening presents" Said james. Harry opened his first one and was surprisedd to see a invisability cloak.

"Thanks dad" he said hugging him. Hi next present was a blank parchment.

Oh thats something i made up called the maurders map but you can choose the passwords. To pick the password you put your wand tip on the parchment and say what the password you want and when the password is set then you put your wand back on the parchment and say what you want the closing password you want and if you can, you could add different stuff on it" said his dad. Harry smiled and stuffed the parchment behind him and grabbed another.

He ended up giving his mother a house hold charms book and a cook book. His dad he got a wand holder which is ant summoning and is invisable to all except to the wearer. He gave sirius some robes and amy a dress. His sibilings and sirius's kids he just got little stuff.

"Well thats it" said james.

"Nope, ive got something else to give" said harry hading out the necklaces. Last night before he went to bed he changed remus's necklace from silver to gold that looked like silver.

"Honey, there beautiful but i have a feeling that there is more to these then just wearing them" said his mother.

"Yup, the necklaces can only be wore by you or the charms wont work for the person. The necklaces has charmed to help protect someone some they reduce the effects of all spells" said harry.

"Wow" said everyone at once.

"Um harry...this is silver" said remus looking uncertain.

"Just put it on" said harry. Remus looked a little uncertain but did so. He was prepared for pain but it never came.

"Come on everyone, its time for some quidditch" yelled james.

OoOoOoOoOo

Over the next couple of months, harry spent half the days excersising and the other half a day buried in his books making up new spells and enchantments. Some people say its hard but it was actually easy but he needs so many of them that it is taking so long. He has one whole blank book he bought full with spells and enchantments for only he can read. This morning he finally got what he was waiting for. His hogwarts letter. He came down the morning he was suppose to buy his hogwarts supplies when he heard his parents talking down stairs.

"It was strange lily. I was battling a dark wizard when he shot a cruciatus curse at me. I tried to duck but i could of sworn it hit me but i didn't feel anything" said his dad. Harry smiled and walked down showing his presence.

"Hey honey lets go" said his mom.

"Aren't the rest of the family going" asked harry.

"No, sirius is here to watch them" said his father.

He nodded and threw the dust into the fire and disappeared and stumbled into the leaky cauldron. He grumbled darkly as he stood up.

they spent the next thirty minutes shopping.

"Son here is seven galleons, you go buy your wand and me and your mom will get your books and meet in the leaky cauldron" said his father. He nodded and walked over to olivanders as he saw neville longbottom walk out carrying the wand he was suppose to get. His jaw drop in confusion. 'What a spoiled brat' thought harry as neville kept complaining about not being able to play quidditch in his first year.

"Ah... Mr. Potter, which arm are you" he asked. The old man still gave him goose bumps.

"Um right" said harry. The man started Measuring his arm and height. Then he started going threw wands. thirty minutes later he went threw all of the wands.

"Thats very curious" said olivanders.

"well... I hate to do this but i have some very rare wands in a box in the back but there very rare and expensive" said olivander. Harry nodded.

The man walke din the back and brought a box out carrying five wands that were twice as beautiful as anyone he has ever seen. He suddenly felt drawn to the wand to the right. the wand had little stone in the bottom of the wand. On the wand it had little phoenix carvings on it. The wand it self was black but it had an air of power. When he picked up the wand he felt complete, sparks flew out of the wand.

"Hmm curious.., that wand right there was merlins wand" said olivanders. Harry s mouth dropped.

"and of course you know anything of merlin's now a days is expensive. I would hate to get rid of it but that wand right there is five hundred thousand galleons" said Ollivander.

Wow... so what are these little stones on this wand for" asked harry. He noticed that there is a little space missing like a stone fell out or was never put in.

"Each of those stones does something to the wand. Whether it is power or courage i don't know. But you see this empty space where a stone is missing. That is said to have a piece of the sorcerers stone in the empty space. They said that the wand was never complete because the sorcerers stone was not made back then" said ollivander.

"Ok i want it" said harry pouring the galleons out and walking out the store. Then he started walking to the leaky couldron to meet his parents and flooed home.

ch. 6 Hogs Hogs Hogwarts

"Come on Harry, the portkey activates in two minutes" yelled his mom from down stairs. He grabbed all of his school books which was a bunch and stuffed them in his trunk. He closed the trunk and raced down stairs and into the living room where his whole family was.

"Now touch the plate" said James holding out a plate for everyone one to touch. When Harry touched the plate, he felt a tug. After floating so much, he landed gracefully at the platform.

"Good bye sweetie" said his mother with tears in her eyes as he hugged him.

"Now son, remember to have fun" said his father with a glint in his eyes.

"In other words, make sure you show people you are a murderer's heir" said Sirius getting hit by both Amy and Lily.

He hugged each of them goodbye and stepped onto the train. He started walking down the hallway till he came to an empty compartment. After thirty minutes into the ride, he wondered where Ron is and Hermione. He looked out of the compartment and heard a commotion up front. He opened the compartment all the way up and started walking down the hallway. Towards the front you could see Malfoy with his wand pointed at someone who was on the floor sobbing and to the left of Malfoy was another small group of Neville in the lead with Ron, Seamus, Dean behind them. Neville and Ron had their wands pointed at Hermione and Seamus and Dean had their wands pointed at Malfoy.

"What going on here" asked Harry loudly.

Neville squinted at his face for a second and sneered "Nothing of your concern Potter, but if you want to know, we are gonna have some fun with this mudblood". Harry's eyes widened when he saw the girl was Hermione and behind them and they were throwing hexes at her and making fun of her.

Harry pulled out his wand and said "let her go".

"What are you gonna do" said neville as he heard hermione scream followed by a slap.

"Ractus" hissed harry. The spell hit neville in the chest throwing him down the hall and unconcious.

"fogus" said harry. His wand started to have fog pouring out and down the hallway so no one could see. He shoved all of the boys out of his way and picked up hermione and ran to his compartment. He layed her down opposite of his in a seat.

"Are you ok" he asked countering all of the hexes.

"Y-Yes" she stuttered.

"There" said harry sitting down.

"T-thank you" she stuttered.

"What is your name" he asked after she started to calm down. He felt a little foolish asking her name since he knew her for seven years.

"Hermione granger" she sniffed.

Eventually she calmed down enough so they can start up on a coversation. When the trolley lady came by he bought them food and drinks. Another hour later they got dress for hogwarts. Finally the train stoped and he and hermione got off the train. When he caught sight of neville and his gang (which isn't malfoy and his goons) they gave him murderous looks. He just ignored them and he loaded on the boat with hermione, padma patil who he remembers become one of the prettiest girls in school even though she loved reading more than looks, and blaise Zabini. The Zabini's were always nuetral in the wars but in the end for choosing side they chose to side with harry not the ministry or dumbledore or voldemort. He remebers that blaise turned into the slytherin quen because with that blonde hair and icy blue eyes, she was in the top five girls in looks even though she wasn't a whore like the other slytherins. Of course that didn't mean she didn't have sex. She lost her virginity to harry and was probably the the last girl he had sex with till he hooked up with hermione.

He was pulled out of his thoughts when they arrived at the castle and escorted by hagrid to the door outside the great hall. When they were alone Neville, who was in front of him, spun around at him glaring daggers at him.

"You better not interfere with what i do. I am the-boy-who-lived and i get what i want. You will do good to stay off my bad side and surrender the mudblood to me even though we will dispose of her when we are threw" he hissed in harry's ear so know one could hear. Neville looked at hermione and licked his lips as she started cower away.

"Leave her alone" he hissed his eyes glowing a frightening green which made the boy cower away in fear. Some of the other kids were giving them curious looks.

Then McGonagall walked out and started explaining the houses. Harry wasn't listening. He was trying to calm hermione down.

"Let go" she finished. They all followed behind her into the great hall. All the first years looked at the ceiling in awe. Harry walked calmly up to the front with the other kids. If you were looking directly at harry, you could tell by the way he walked he was powerful and graceful. Over the year of exercising he actually had abs at the age of eleven which was actually shocking if you see him without a shirt.

Then McGonagall started calling out names. One name grabbed his attention when padma was sorted into gryffindor instead ravenclaw. 'Well' he thought 'this is another dimension so different things are suppose to happen'.

He noticed several other people were sorted into different houses but all of the gryffindors stayed the same except accepting a little bit more.

Then neville's name was called followed by tons of whispering. He rolled his eyes as neville strutted up to the hat and stuffed it on his head. After three minutes, the hat called out gryffindor as they cheered. Neville's face was a little shaken up. 'Must of tried to send him to slytherin' mused harry as his name was called.

He calmly walked up and sat down on the seat with the hat on his head.

"Hmmm interesting, well who do we have here, harry potter... another dimension thats interesting" said the hat in his mind.

"Yes so will you please don't say anything to anyone" said harry.

"I will do as you ask" said the hat.

"GRYFFINDOR" yelled the hat.

Harry smiled as he walked to the table and sat accross from padma. He smiled at her and recieved one back as he turned when hermione's name was called. It took twenty seconds and gryffindor was called out. He smiled as she sat next to him. Then his smile aded when Neville, who was sitting across from them, started teasing hermione in stuff eleven year old shouldn't know.

"Silencio" said harry pointing his wand neville shutting him up.

"will you please shut up" said a annoyed harry as ron was sorted into gryffindor. Then blaise was called up. After a minute it finally shouted Gryffindor which shocked alot of people because all zabini's were either slytherin or ravenclaw. She shakily sat down next to hermione. After the feat harry followed the gryffindor to there dormitry. Harry fell asleep that night with a smile.

a/n well i changed this chapter around because the first time wasn't very good.

ch. 6 classes

He got up the next morning expecting a very boring day of first year work. He got dressed and headed down to breakfast. He was one of the first risers but stayed till hermione showed up along with padma and blaise. After everyone was there, McGonagall started handing out schedules. He groaned, gryffindor had potions with snape first followed by transfiguration and then DaDa after lunch. After he was finished breakfast he headed to potions with the girls.(well for who doesn't know where i'm leading with this i am gonna turn Hermione, harry, padma , and blaise into a group kinda like the golden trio). Harry took a seat with blaise as hermione took a seat with padma. Harry looked over to the other gryffindor boys to see them still glaring at him. ' they should be in slytherin' he thought with a smirk. Just then snape walked in.

"I will have no foolish wand waving and silly incantations, i will tea-" he was interrupted by a snort of laughter from neville who just heard a joke from ron.

"Hmm... our new celebrity" sneered snape at neville. Neville smiled and straightened up expecting extra attention

"Mr. longbottom...what would I get if I added powdered root of asphodel to an infusion of wormwood?"

Harry snorted in laughter when neville made a face looking like he was constipated.

"Um...slugs" he said looking confused.

"Wrong" snape barked "where would you look if I told you to find me a bezoar?"

"In a tree" said neville with an innocent smile.

"Well aren't you funny" sneered snape "what is the difference between monkshood and wolfsbane?"

By now hermione's hand was waving in the air like crazy.

"Stop you will get us in trouble" hissed Harry. She instantly put her hand down looking put out. He couldn't help but smile at her cute face.

"How should I know" said Neville rudely. Harry smirked hoping he gets detention. Snape caught the smirk.

"What about you Potter" he asked crossing his arms.

"Draught of the Living Death, the stomach of a goat. and there's nothing different sir" he said innocently.

"Correct" he said after a minutes pause "Five points...to Gryffindor"said Snape "at least you take after your mother in school" and said to himself as he turned his back to the class "unlike your father".

The whole class was stunned. Snape never gave points to any other class except Slytherin.

"Well, copy it down" he snapped to the class. The class mostly spent the time copying notes down.

Next he had transfiguration. He snorted in laughter when Neville and Ron were late and McGonagall changed from the cat and scolded them for being late.

"Now, I know this is a bit early but I want to see who has a knack for this subject. First of, there is five spells for transfiguration. Conecto is the first transfiguration spell that is for beginners and transfigures smaller things into different smaller things. The only way to get what you want is you must picture every detail of the item and wave your wand in a circular motion and say conecto. Transfiguration takes a lot of concentration. Now onto conjuring. Conjuring is basically the same things and transfiguring except there are six different spells. The beginners conjuring spell is conjo torrento and just do the same thing as transfiguring. The wand movement is just a downward jab. Now I want you all to conjure a tooth pick" explained McGonagall.

Harry sat there calmly waiting till someone else did it first till he does it. He looked over beside him to see Hermione conjure it on her third time. He smiled when she recieved five points. 'now my turn' thought harry.

He jabed his wand downward and muttered conjo torento and a tooth pick emediatly appeared. Harry noticed that alot more power was into the spell than he actually put in. He looked down at his wand to see the stones on the wand glow very little that he almost missed it. He shrugged as he got five points for gryffindor.

"Now, change the toothpick into a needle. The spell is converto and the movement is a circular one" said McGonagall.

Harry just sat there bord watching the kids. He laughed Neville's toothpick lit on fire and he spent another five minutes conjuring the toothpick back.

Harry almost jumped out of his skin when heheard a voice behind him.

"Mr. Potter, why don't you stop taking amusement from other's failures and start trying the spell yourself" said McGonagall.

"Very well" said harry. He waved his wand and muttered "Converto" and the toothpick turneded into a needle perfectly.

"Very good, ten points to gryffindor" she said. 'he is the first person to ever do it on his first try. He looks like he is bored' thought McGonagall. Her eyes narrowed when harry transfigured the needle back to a toothpick and stated conjuring more toothpicks and levitating them into a toothpick house. Then the bell rang. He vanished the house and walked to lunch with the girls.

"Classes are so cool" said Hermione biting into an apple.

"Yup" said Padma.

"I just hope DaDa is good beause i want to learn how to protect my self" said blaise. The rest nodded.

After lunch they started walking to the defence room. Half way through class he could tell his friends were getting bored with all of the stuttering and the nonsense talk from Quirl. He grabbed his wand and conjured a peice of parchment and a quill and started writing a letter not seeing the look hermione sent him for conjuring a perfect quill. Most people buy quills from stores is because its hard to conjure them for you have to thinks of feather that are soft and the point which is usaul hard for writing. Most people couldn't really conjure them perfectly till they where in fifth mostly by sixth year.

Dear Dad,

As you probably know, i was sorted into gryffindor. I have three friends which are girls but i don't really have a problem with that. Well what i wanted to ask you is saw my transfiguration teacher change into a cat and i heard that it is called animagus which you are one. I was wondering if you would send me some notes and books about becoming a animagus.

Tell the family i miss them

Harry potter

Before the battle, he was starting his training for animagus but never really started the transforming. He did the spell to learn what animagus he is and learned he is a phoenix. He wasn't a normal phoenix either, he was a midnight phoenix. A midnight phoenix has black eyes and the feather are bright red but the tip of them are black.

After class harry and the girls headed to there common room for there DaDa homework.

ch. 7 flying classes

Two weeks into school seem to blur by Harry. School was going very boring because it was easy. During classes, he would always wait till two or three people do the new spells before even trying. He could have sworn some of the teachers noticed but they didn't say anything. Finally the day of flying class came. He did the usual thing by getting up doing push ups, and situps for an hour which he noticed made Neville angry which he didn't know why. After exercising he got dressed and walked to breakfast. He received by mail three animagus books and his dad's personal marauder's guide with quicker tips.

"Hey, Neville's got a memory!" shouted Seamus. Harry looked over remembering it in his dimension. Then someone snatched it out of his hand from behind.

"You don't mind it I take this do you?" said Malfoy sarcastically.

"Give that back!" shouted Neville.

"What's going on here?" said McGonagall walking up behind them.

"Nothing professor, just talking!" said Malfoy dropping the glass ball in front of Neville and walking to his table.

Ten minutes later the first year Gryffindors and Slytherins were walking towards the pitch for their flying lesson. Harry was ecstatic, he couldn't wait to get back onto a broom. He rolled his eyes as Neville, Ron, and Malfoy were bragging about their broom handling skills.

"Please!" drawled Harry "you three probably couldn't even fly out of a paper bag". Hermione gave Harry a disapproving look for saying that. The three were confused with the muggle phrase but understood the real meaning.

"What you think you can fly better?" demanded Neville.

"Of course" he said simply. He had his hand on his wand just in case.

"Well we will see Potter" spat Neville and he shoved Harry aside and standing behind a broom.

"Well what are you waiting for, stand up to the left side of your broom stick, place your right hand over the stick and say up" said madam hooch.

Harry did as he was told and the broom shot up into his hand which caused neville and malfoy to glare at him. 'Jeeze, why is everyone jealous of me'.

He snickered when madam hooch corrected ron's, neville's, and malfoy's grip on the broom.

"Now i want you to lightly kick off the ground...hover for a moment and touch backdown" commanded the flying instructor. Everyone did just that. He was surprised to see neville actually hover off the ground gracefull... that is till goyle veered off to the right and knocked him off his brrom and broke his wrist. Harry's jaw dropped, it seemed like most of the things that happened in his dimension happened in this one but different how's.

"I am gonna take Mr. Longbottom to the hospital wing, if i see one broom out in the air the one riding it will find them self out of hogwarts faster than you could say quidditch" sad madam hooch.

"Look at this" exclaimed malfoy picking up the remembrall that fell out of neville's pocket.

"Give it here malfoy" said Ron coldy.

"Why don't you make me" said malfoy getting on his broom "I whink i am gonna leave it somewhere for longbottom to find...like on the roof".

Ron was about to go after him when harry flew past him and right in front of malfoy.

"Give it hear malfoy or i will knock you off your broom" said harry coldly. Malfoy looked scared for a second.

"Catch" he said throwing it as hard as he could. Harry flew as fast as he could feeling the familiar butterfly feeling in his stomach thats from flying. Five feet from the ground harry snatched it up. He was a little dissapointed that he had to fly back to the ground because McGonagall was walking outside.

"Potter...follow me" she said with a angry look but harry could see the look of pride and a twitch at the corner of her lips. He looked over to see malfoy and his crew and neville and his group had happy looks on there faces.

He followed her to the DaDa class room.

"Professor Quirrell excuse me... may i borrow wood for a moment" She asked.

"W-w-why y-y-yes" stuttered Quirrell.

Harry smiled when he saw wood walk out looking confused. He hasn't see oliver in a long time.

"Wood, i have you a seeker" said McGonagall smiling.

Wodd's expression turned to delight.

"Yes" he exclaimed pumping his hand in the air "We have James potter's son on the team". Before hogwarts he learned his dad played professional quidditch for three before quitting and becoming a auror.

"Now, i want you to keep this quiet till the first game which is against slythering" said McGonagall but wood wasn't listening. He was almost in tears with joy while muttering to him self about quidditch.

"Alright" said harry walking to the common room. An hour into his homework Fred and George plopped down on each side of him

"Congradulations harry"

"Wood just told us-"

"That you made the-"

"Quidditch team" they said a bit to loudly" This made heads turned. Neville was glaring furiously at him.'damn it, potter is taking my glory.

i am gonna have to do something about this' thought neville. That is what harry caught in neville's mind when he used legilimency on him.

"You are suppose to keep this quiet" whispered harry harshly.

the twins shared a look.

"Well how do you expect to keep this quiet"

"When wood was skipping around exclaiming"

"We have james potters son on the team, we have james potters son on the team" they finished together. You could hear murmurs in the common room while some people came and congratulated him. He sighed and started heading to dinner.

"Hey potter, when is the train gonna pick you up for being expelled" sneered malfoy when he walked by him.

"Never" said harry sitting down as the trio girls, what he calls them when he isn't around, sat down next to him.

"Guess what" said harry.

"What" asked blaise, hermione, and padma at the same time.

"I got seeker on the quidditch team" he said smiling.

"Congratulations" said hermione hugging him along with blaise and padma. Ever since school started he has been made fun of for hanging around three girls but he doesn't really care. Though lately he has been talking to the twins and becoming friends with them. He even gave them suggestions for jokes.

After dinner harry stayed up playing exploding snap with fred and george while the girls studied. Recently hermione has been getting mad because no matter how little harry studied he knew the questions and finished his homework before her.

"Well, i will see yall tomorrow" said harry running up the stairs to his bed.

a/n well sorry it took so long but i have writers block. I know what happens in the first book but i don't want to copy it and i need help making up new things. So will someone give me some suggestions?

chapter 9

Over the next month not much happened in school except malfoy's group and neville's group have been hexing Hermione, padma, and blaise in the hall and in the common room when they were alone because they hang around harry.

"Arrrr" growled hermione walking in the common room and ditting next to harry and blaise.

"I was just in the library and i saw Neville, ron, dean, and sheamus looking up hexes in books. I heard them talking about one that shrinks one of your legs like a whole foot" exclaimed hermione.

"Well, how about i teach you guys to duel" suggested harry.

Hermione just stared at harry thirty seconds before saying "Harry... you are just a first year. I mean, why don't we just get fred and george to teach us since they are in thirrd year".

"Yeah, we will teach you"

"Except we have never have had a good DaDa teacher"

"And we never even tried to learn"

"Because we spend all of our time playing praks" they finished together.

"Did you two event a spell that lets you read each other minds" asked padma curiously.

Hermione scoffed "Like those two can do that" she said.

"Well i think it is a great idea because i don't want to go back to madam pomphry to get my ears shrank back to the right size again" said blaise.

"How would you all like to become a animagus" asked harry.

"That would be brilliant" Yelled fred and george while the girls nodded.

"Since we are so young it might take a while but i have a couple of books my dad sent me for it" said harry. Then he stood up about to walk out but stopped when padma asked where he was going.

"Trying to find where we will be leaning to duel and learn how to become a animagus" said harry eaving. Finaly today is the day. Over the year he has been looking up spells for this and he has finally finished it. He took out his jurnal that has all of the spells which are over one hundred of them. he walked about thirty feet down the wall where the griffindor common room. He started chanting the first four spells with his wand pointing at the wall. The wall glowed green and formed a door like hole in the wall before the wall turned back normal. The he pulled out a red rose necklace just like the one he gave to his family. On the wall where the door was has a little square metel plate which is kind of hard to see unless you were looking for it. He chanted another spell to the necklace then another to the metel square plate which glowed blue for a second. Then he pulled out another rose necklace but it is black. He chanted the same chant to the necklace to the plate. Then he pulled another necklace out which looks like a phoenix. He did the same chantings and put the phoenix necklace on. Then he tapped his wand on the matal plate while pressing one of the necklaces to the plate and said "Phoenix chambers".

He sighed. That spell casting already has pulled alot of energy out of him but he kept going. He raised his wand. He started muttering a spell while tracing the edge of the door wall with his wand leaving behind a red glowing line. When the line collected a large rune appeared in the air. With a flick of his wand the rune stuck on the wall and glowed yellow before going invisible. He started muttering about seven more spells pointing his wand at the open door way. A pair of stairs appeared which led down about twenty steps. Another chanting and torches on the wall appeared and lit up so he could see.

When he was in his other dimension he has always wanted to make up his own little sanctuary for the DA. Finaly he gets a chance to make it but only beter than he dreamed of.

At the bottom of the stairs he just casted a easy spell which made a nice wooden door appear. When he opened the door there was just another wall. Then he started chanting a very long spell. Then a large room appeared out of know where. The room looked half a size than the gryffindor common room but the room was just plainly square and dark. With another wave ov his wand twenty five torches appeared on the walls which lit the whole room up. Then he chanted another spell and a large fireplace place with a roaring fire appeared on each side of the room. Then he swepted his wand in a line in a the room and muttered another complex spell. Out of know where, chairs, tables love seats, couches and bean bags appeared all over the room in red and blue colors with some yellow. The room looked like just another large common room. He plopped down onto a couch in front of a fire and rested for a second.

He looked around the room and admired it. It looked almost like the gryffindor common room except it was bigger with different colors and no spiral stair cases.

After another ten minutes of resting he got up for the rest. With another wave of his wand another door appeared on the wall with the word library ingraved on it. He open the door with another wall there. Another wave of his wand and another room appeared but smaller then the phoenix common room. Another wave of his wand and blook cases and shelves appeared against the walls allond with rows of them along with several desks tables and chairs. He then pulled out a bag which has all of the books he has bought so far shrunk and unshrank them which where like over two hundred including many dark arts books. On the lower class books that has informations along with spells and potions and knowledge that is for someone bigginer in his group where chanted so only people who has a red rose one on it can read it. As they go up on numbers, the more higher powerful books you are aloud to read for safety reasons. The numbers wher red rose one, two three then black rose one, two three. As the person starts off they will have a red rose necklace one and as they progress in knowledge and spell casting along with dueling ability there necklace will change to a higher level. Who ever has a black rose pendant three will be able to access to almost all of the books except maybe fifteen that were only for harry that has the most powerful spells in them.

After he put all of his books on the shelves, which he still needs more, he walked back into the common room. He walked to another blank wall and waved his wand again. Another wooded door appeared with the words dormitries ingraved on it. He opened and waved his wand again with another chant and a hallway appeared with torches along the hall. He walked to the end of the hall and casted another chant. Another hallway appeared on his laft and his right and the wall that splits them and a sign on it that said boys with an arrow to the left and girls with a arrow to the right.

He started walking down the doys hallway which led to a door. He opened the door and waved his wand creating a room that was small but has three stair casses to them. Each stair casses to lead to a dormitry with seven beds in each along with drawlers, closets, and bathrooms in each of them. Then he walked to the girls hall and created the same things but bigger bathrooms. After he was done with the dormitry's he went back into the common room. He created another room that said healing room. He created another room but a long one with rows of thirty white beds. Then he created a little office for making potions another room in the healing room for storing medical potions for when the war comes and people are hurt.

After he was sone with the healing room he made another room for just so people can have fun. He made a pullo room. The room had a huge pull with a large hot tub along with ten changing rooms and lawn chairs on the side of the pool charmed to give people tans.

Then finally the last door was made with the ingraving training room. The hallway led to another door that was bigger than the great hall. On one side on the room had five large dueling stands which took up half of the room. On the other half for people to practice new spells. And on the side was five doors called the dueling chambers. Each door was a room that conjure up dummies that will duel with you. There is a button beside the door you push and say how many dumies you want what spellsand beginner, intermendiate, and advance.

"Finally" muttered harry. He pretty much used up all of his energy making what he caused the place the phoenix chambers. Ever since the chamber of secrets harry has been wanting to make up his own chamber. You can only get into the chamber if you have to press your pendent to the metal plate and say phoenix chamber and it will let you in.

He trudged out of the chambers and into the gryffindor common room which is around midnight. He walked up into his dormitory and fell asleep right when he landed in his bed.

A/N Ok, i hope this chapter wasn't too boring but i have had this one planned for about two weeks but didn't know when to get harry to make it and when to show his friends it because they won't believe he made it. Well i sure hope you guys liked the chapter and i wrote it real quick.

chapter 10

Harry woke the next morning refreshed. He headed for the phoenix chamber to duel with some dummies for an hour before he headed to breakfast. As he sat down Fred, George, Padma, Blaise, and Hermione stumbled in out of breath.

"What's up?" asked Harry.

"Oh nothing... except these two bone heads decided to check out the third floor and ended up running into a giant three headed dog" said Blaise sarcastically pointing at Fred and George.

"Well we wanted to figure out" said Fred

"Why it was off limits" finished George.

"(1)Ainsi ils l'ont déjà trouvé hmmmm" he muttered in French to himself. Hermione caught the last two words and looked up surprised.

"(2)Depuis quand avoir vous avez parlé français" she asked very surprised.

"(3)l'OH, UM j'ai trouvé un livre français de mes mamans deux il y a années" he answered back.

"Mind telling us what you're talking"

"About and what you're talking" asked the twins annoyed and curiously.

"Well they are obviously speaking French. Most purebloods are taught French and Spanish when they are younger so you should know" said Blaise. Fred and George just looked clueless.

The rest of the day Harry has been worried. He would always jump when someone spoke to him and he would turn around or look around corners when he heard a noise. He had a good reason for it to, it was Halloween day. Finally charms class came by.

"No, it is wingardium leviosa not leviasa" said Hermione in a baby voice to Ron who was next to her and Harry as on her other side.

"Leave me alone" he snarled quietly at her.

"I am trying to help" she said wondering why he doesn't want help.

"Hermione just leave him alone" he whispered to her.

"No, why won't he just listen to help" she said.

"Well if you are so smart, why don't you do it" he said rudely.

"Fine...wingardium leviosa" she said with a swish and a flick. Ron just crossed his arms grumpily.

"Miss granger did it, five points to gryffindor" squeaked flitwick. Harry swished his wand making the wand float and earning him five points. After class harry stayed a few minutes extra with blaise and padma to teach them the levitation spell while hermione was walking to her room to get a book. She was walking behind ron, neville, dean, and sheamus when she was walking out of the room.

"Honestly, she is a nightmare. She only has friends because they use her for her brain" said ron to the group making them laugh. She ran passed them sobbing and into a bathroom ignoring the wailing ghost.

Harry noticed that hermione was absent from the gryffindor tower for the free period after charms and DaDa class. He figured something happened and she ended up in the bathroom again crying. he didn't really want to change anything so he just tried acting normal.

At dinner time just like in his dimension, quirrell came running in the great hall yelling about a troll then fainting. Harry slipped out the hall unnoticed and ran to the bathroom. When he walked in he saw hermione pressed against the wall on the other side of the room crying in fright while the troll was walking towards her. Then the troll picked her up from the front of her robes and threw her across the room but luckily harry caught her but still knocked him down with her on top of him.

"Reducto" he yelled underneath hermione with his wand pointed at the troll. He only used one fifth of his power in the spell but it was more powerful than an average person's. The spell struck the troll in the gut throwing him backwards and he crashed into the wall. Harry knew it was dead because his inside looked like mush.

Right then the teacher came in hearing the noise. Harry was awarded fifty points for saving Hermione and Hermione didn't lose none because it wasn't her fault for being in the bathroom during dinner because people miss meals all the time. After that he helped a shaky Hermione to the common room.

a/n i am so sorry it has taken so long but i am getting a little bored of writing and i am having trouble thinking of new chapters. so i want to say that his first year is gonna go a little quicker and so will second year cause i might not have enough new stuff for it.

now, i would like your opinions on who Harry should date. here are the only choices.

Harry/fleur

harry/hermione

harry/ginny

harry/blaise

harry/padma

ok i think i might put Harry in a couple of relationships but i am not sure. i might make it so Harry is dating like multiple girls at once and they don't care for sharing.

now if anyone has any help for a chapter please tell me. oh and i am not doing another chapter till i get seventy five lol so write them up cause people with less than me has more previews.

now let me tell you that i am writing on wordpad cause microsoftword onmy comp is gone so there is gonna be a lot of non capitalizedwordsand mis spelled wrds.

ch. 111

All of the teachers in the school were sitting in the teachers lounge talking to each other. McGonagall looked around and noticed quirrell was not there. She looked at dumbledore and asked where he is at.

"He says he is swamped and must check homework. The meeting isn't entirely important" said dumbledore popping in a new muggle candy he likes called lemon heads.

"I'll call the meeting tonight to try and find out how the troll got into the school" asked dumbledore.

"I for one think the weasley twins did it for a prank because it was in the dungeons and you know how much they hate slythering" sneered snape even though he knew quirrell did it but was going to bask in the glory when he catches quirrell almost stealing the stone.

"Severus, you can't be serious. I have seen them do some dangerous stuff but they aren't dumb enough to let loose a troll loose in the school!" exclaimed McGonagall.

"I find it amazing that Mr. Potter was able to do a third year on the troll and kill it. Did you see the size of the hole in its stomach" squeaked professor flitwick.

"Yes that is interesting. I don't even believe Mr. Longbottom can do the reducto curse, perhaps we should start training him for what lies ahead of him" said dumbledore to some of the teachers confusion.

"Well I am not surprised Mr. Potter can do that spell. Every essay and homework papers he has turned in are O's and they are done perfectly. Not to mention his practical work is amazing. I have a feeling he is holding back his skill because most of the time on new spells he waits for one or two people to do the spell first before even attempting to try it and he gets them on his first try" she exclaimed.

"Same in my class" piped up flitwick who's eyes are barely above the table which looks incredibly amusing.

"I wonder if lily and james helped him practise his wand movements and wording before school" asked McGonagall. You could tell the other teacher who don't have harry were starting to get bored of the descussion.

"Keep a eye on Mr. Potter and report to me if you see anything suspicious or him casting high power spells" said Dumbledore dismissing them. Most teachers walked out quickly while some stayed to talk. ' i believe mr. potter will be powerful when he is older. I might invite him into the order of the phoenix if voldemort ever truly comes back' thought dumbledore.

That weekend harry told his friends to meet at the sevent floor beside the quilt on the wall. When he arried he pased back in forth to there confussion until a door appear makinga couple of the girls gasp. He opened the door and they followed him him hesitantly.

"Where are we-"

"Because we have our ways-"

"To find any room in this school-"

"And this Room we have never seen before" said the weasley twins.

"This is called the room of requirements which is what the house elves calls it. It will give you anything you want. This is Where we are gonna learn how to become animaguses and learn some DaDa to" said harry. Instantly six bean bags appeared in a circle in front of a fire. All six of them took a seat in one as harry opened one of the books his dad gave him.

"Now... i am gonna put a spell on us that will render us unconcious for a couple of minutes and wewill see what are animagus forms are in our dream thing" said harry.

"Animagus monusm" he said pointing his wand at fred then george then the rest till he did himself even though he knows what his is.

He woke up ten minutes later as everyone else woke up.

"Wha did you guys get" asked harry.

"A red fox" said fred and george at the same time.

"A cat" said padma.

"A golden retriever dog" said blaise.

"An owl" said hermione excitedly.

"An owl really does fit you" he said smiling thinking how smart she is and how smart owls are. Then he noticed they were all looking at him.

"A... phoenix" he said hesitantly.

"What! but thats a magical animal and a book i found said only really powerful people can get a magical animagus and the last one was Godric Gryffindor" she said exasperated. He gave her a affended look.

"No that your not powerful but- but" she" she stuttered.

"Ok ok. Now... over the next six weeks we are suppose to spend three hours every day picturing your animal in your mind and every detail until we are even allowed to start the transformation" he said getting a groan from the twins.

"Now, how about we learn some spells, the protego spell" he said earning nodd.

"um harry" she said raising her hand.

"Mione, you don't have to raise your hand in a group of your friends" he said.Hermione inwardly smiled at the nickname he said to her.

"Harry, i no your smart and all but shouldn't we have fred and george teach us since they are two years oler than us" she asked.

"How about a duel between me against fred and george" he said as a dueling stage appeared and hopped on it. Hermione looked uncertain for harry's sake as the two third years got on the stage opposite of him.

"One" said fred.

"Two" said said george.

"Three, rictumsempra" finished harry as the powerful spell hit fred making him fall down laughing really hard. It took three finite incantantums to get him to stop from george.

"Stupefy" yelled george.

Harry did a little slash wave of his wand without speaking anything and the spell dissolved right in front of him.

"Expelliarmus, stupefy" said fred.

"Rictumsempra, petrificus totalus" finished George.

"Protego" said harry lazily as a powerful shield appeared deflecting the spells knocking them else where.

"locomotor mortis, expelliarmus, rictumsempra, tarantellagra, petrificus totalus, expelliarmus, nelmo, stupefy, stupefy"said harry right after the other. The leg locker hit george making him fall on his but. The disarmer was blocked buy george, as the laughing spell hit george making him roll on the ground laughing. The jelly legs curse it fred making his legs dance around as the body bind struck george lock up but still wanting to laugh on the inside. The disarmer hit fred as the stinging hex hit fred on the riht shoulder making him wince in pain as the stunners each struckone of the boys knocking them out.

"Wow"said all three girls at the same time in shock.

"Where did you learn that" "when did you practise those" "what were some of those" "will you teach us" "are they alright" the girls fired of questions.

"Look i just studied then and came here the beggining of the year" he said which wasn't a total lie except coming there because he goes to the phoenix chambers instead.

"Finite incantatum" he said as the twins came around.

"Bloody-"

"Hell-" finished fred rubbing his shoulder where the stinging hex hit him.

"Now, lets teach the girls the protego guys since you already know it" said harry ashe started teaching hermione while the twins worked with the other girls. What none of them realized was that McGonagall happen to pass by the seventh floor and saw a mysterious door. Her curiosity got the better of her and she saw from the beggining of the duel and was amazed by harry's dueling skills. What really shocked her was was seeing harry perform the disolve shield which is one of the most powerful spells that most people can't even perform it because one, it takes out alot of power each time you do it two, it only casts wordless It is the best shield because it will make almost any spell to disolve except the unforgivable and some stronger dark arts and a couple powerful light arts spells.

"I SWEAR HEADMASTER! HE DEFEATED TWO THIRD YEARS IN A DUEL AND USED A DISOLVE SHIELD SUCESSFULLY AND CAST TEN SPELLS AFTER IT" yelled McGonagall to the headmaster who wouldn't believe her.

"My dear, i believe he just did a reguler shield andyou just didn't see it" said the headmaster.

"Bu- but" she stuttered.

"Now, defeating two third years is remarkable but i thank you for bringing this to me.

breakfast before quidditch game

During breakfast before the first quidditch game, tons of owls started to fly in. Everyone one on the gryffindor quidditch team recieved packages. On the note it said.

the person's name

Don't open till locker room. use it well.

harry potter

The whole quidditch team looked confused but they can clearly see it was a broom.

When the team reached the locker they all started unraping there gift. They each pulled out nimbus 2000's. They all started screaming and gave harry a hug and a kiss from the girls.

"WELCOME TO THE FIRST QUIDDITCH GAME OF THE SEASON! IT IS SLYTHERIN VERSUS GRYFFINDOR" screamed lee over the microphone.

Red and green blurred appeared on the pitch as the teams raced out.

"Slytherin better be praying because Harry Potter just donated the whole team NIMBUS Two thousands" said lee.

"Now i want a nice and clean game... from everybody" said madam hooch releasing the quaffle and the snitch.

"Angela takes the quaffle...passes to alicia...ducks a slythering chaser...fients left and SCORES" yelled lee. Harry Looked over a higgs the slytherin seeker who was doing lazy figure eights below him.

Five minutes into the game it was fourty to thirty and it was Gryffindors lead. After another fifteen mintes it was one hundred and twenty to fifty and Gryffindor was beating them horribly since they all got new brooms. Then, the slytherins started playing bad. They slamed a bludger at alicia and it hits her right shoulder knocking her off her broom and out of the game. After another five minutes they managd to hit angela in the stomach and that knocked her out. With two chasers out, thsy started to lose quickly. Just in a couple of minutes it was a hundred and thirty to one hundred and fifty to slythering's lead.

"Come on harry, catch it and quick" yelled wood. He nodded. A moment later he saw it five feet above the ground. He started a large dive along with higgs behind him. He pulled up right above the ground and caught the snitch as higgs slammed into the ground with a crunch. The stands erupted in cheers as three fourth of the school ran down to the pitch in a huge hug.

"Party in the Gryffindor common room" yelled fred and george causing cheers to erupt.

During the party fred and george brought in ten cases of butterbeer and ten cases of firewhiskey from the house elves that have six bottles in each case.

"Come on lets dance" said angela pulling harry up from the couch where he was drinking a bottle of firewhisky.

He didn't really remember doing much except dancing with a lot of girls older than him and kissing...a lot.

A/N Well it is between these pairs thanks for all of the reviews and i hope you liked this chapter a bit more though i didn't really like that flame since i don't have spell check. please review more.

Ch. 12

Over the rest of the year Harry taught the group simple but useful dueling skills. While during his first year he managed to act like he found all of the clues to the sorcerer's stone. At the end of his first year he defeated quirrel in a duel and killed him with a reducto curse. He acted traumatized for a week before turning normal again. After that Harry started getting a reputation equal to the-boy-who-lived but that is only at the kids at Hogwarts. The group started calling themselves the shadow league because they did three pranks on the slytherins a week and set them up at night. Harry never did tell them about the phoenix chambers or the necklaces. He would do that when voldemort came back or if he would. The shadow league managed one fourth of their transformation on animagus but they were still young.

During second year Harry basically quit teaching them dueling and only worked on animagus. He didn't want to teach them any more for a while because they already can out duel fourth years maybe fifth. Just like his dimension Lockhart started teaching only he started bugging Neville. The malfoy group and the longbottom group got so terrible that when they see each other in the halls they always hexes each other and sometimes the shadow league. During the dueling club Neville talked to a snake malfoy conjured and for a while everyone thought he was slytherin's heir. The thing was drake put the diary into his sisters roses cauldron instead of Ginny's and he didn't know where the attacks were coming from until the same message on the wall came up and Harry grabbed Neville making him open the chamber since he didn't want to do it and not know how to tell Dumbledore he got the chamber open without revealing he is a parselmouth. Eventually he destroyed tom riddle and saved his sister which created a special bond between them and they sometimes could feel what each other's feelings and got much closer as siblings.

Third year pettingrew escaped as a rat from Azkaban and Remus taught. The thing is wormtail was after Neville and managed to stunned him and Harry followed them to the shrinking shack and caught peter but he got away again because he tripped getting out of the tunnel and lost his wand for a couple of seconds and enough time for wormtail to transform and escape. A week before school ended everyone finished with there animagus forms.

Ok I am soooo sorry that it took so long unlike my other chapters but I was on a major writers block and decided to skip all grades till fourth year which I love writing. Hopfully my next chapter will be up in the next week.

I know it's been a long time since I have updated, but I have decided to give out some info on this story. For starters, anyone whose has left a positive review for this story must be crazy lol. I was young when I wrote this story and frankly, it sucks.

There are so many mistakes in this story, that frankly I'm embarrassed that I actually wrote it. My new story for Naruto is ten times better than this one I think. And for anyone who is wondering if i'm going to finish this story, that is a big maybe. If I would, I wouldn't fix this one. If anyone has been to my profile, you would see that a while ago I tried rewriting the story but there are just too many mistakes to fix.

As of right now, i'm concentrating on my Naruto story, which has caught my interest lately and I recommend you read that one. Anyways, i'm actually think that i'm going to just delete this whole story because it's basically a insult to my writing.

Thanks for reading anyways,

Tomorrow is Never Promised
